The Pony in Franz-Josef Land.

At an early stage in our journey our difficulties began. The pony broke loose the second night out, and, unfortunately, gorged herself with dried vegetables. These, together with dog biscuits and a few pounds of oats saved from the previous sledging, were her usual fodder, owing to the lack of legitimate horse food, which had quite run out more than 12 months before. As I expected, the surplus of dried vegetables brought on a serious illness, to remedy which Armitage and I clubbed together the small supply of pills which we had with us. He produced, I think, two varieties of pills, and I had a number of podophyllin; so we made up a dose of 22 in all, which I administered to our invalid pony, mixed up in some frozen fat from our frying pan. This, I am glad to say, had the desired effect of all events nearly restoring her to health. —New York Sun

Self Made Men of Other Days.

The self made man is by no means solely the product of modern times. Columbus was a weaver, Franklin was a journeyman printer, Pope Sixtus V was employed in his young days in keeping swine, Robert Burns was a plowman, Escop was a slave, Homer was a beggar, Daniel De Foe was apprenticed to a hosier, Demosthenes was the son of a candler, while Virgil was a baker's son. Ben Jonson was a bricklayer, Cervantes was a common soldier, Canova's father was a stonecutter, Captain Cook commenced life as a cabin boy, Haydn, the musician, was the son of a poor wheelwright, Pizarro, instead of going to school, was sent to keep hogs. Kirke White's father was a butcher, and Keats' father kept a livery stable. —New York Sun

THE OLD CIRCUS MAN.

HIS TALK ABOUT THE FIRST SOUVENIRS GIVEN BY SHOW PEOPLE.

They were distributed by the Great Giraffe — A Thrilling Incident Which Attended One Performance — How the Reindeer Stood on the Giraffe's Shoulder.

"The first novelties I ever knew of being given out in the show business," said the old circus man, "we gave away in our show at the time we had the big 18 foot giraffe. We never had an attraction that beat the big giraffe. The people were just carried away with him. There wasn't anything about him that what interested them, even the slightest little things. On clear days, when we were where we could do it and the sun was right for us, we used to get the giraffe out in front of the entrance of the main tent and have him stand there like great sentry. People used to stop and look up at him, and then the first thing you know somebody'd discover his shoulder. Anybody'd cut a long snadder at that hour of the day, of course, but the giraffe's shoulder remained as far as you could see. And as soon as one man began to look at it to others did, and then you'd see 'em. I've seen 1,000 people at a time line up long that shoulder and just stand along the edge of it down past the main tent and the sideshow tents, just standing there lookin' at it. The giraffe was great but his shoulder really staggered 'em. And then they'd stand till the sun dropped down under the edge of the earth, and the first thing they knew there wasn't any shoulder. Then they'd stand at each other for a minute, and then all bunch up together again and look at the giraffe till we took him in.

"We used to have a line on the programme saying that at 2 o'clock and at 9 o'clock the great giraffe would stand around ice water. That's where the novelties come in. We used to give away the glasses the water was in. The glasses were marked, 'Souvenir of the Great Giraffe,' and whoever got 'em could keep 'em. The seats in our circus were divided into four sections. We used to give away four or five thousand souvenirs per performance, one in each section. When the time come, we'd march the giraffe around the edge of the ring, and in front of each section his keeper would hand him a wire holder holding a pair of glasses, which he would take by the handle in his mouth. Then all persons who could reach em in the line up would try to grab for those glasses. It's a wonder though the whole section would stand up on the seats and all grab for the holder when it comes near 'em. I'd still spill the water and get wet myself, the greatest time you ever had. Nobody got hurt, and so we just buzz along. But finally something would happen.

"At one evening entertainment when he was serving as the manager, when we came to one of the sections, there was a man sitting on the fourth seat in the top who held up his leg and was looking younger about 10 years old, who was sitting alongside of him, and set him up on his shoulder. The giraffe lifted the holder up and set it alight with the seats with the people gathered round, and when it come near this man, just the boy on his shoulder the man just lit him up so that the boy could sit on his shoulders. He got the glass and started down with it, when his next minute he stood up, instead of feeling his journey down his shoulder, felt his weight go down, and nobody else saw the boy suspended in air. When the giraffe saw the boy go, he lifted the holder, and the boy always did, to clear the people back, swinging it around and down to the keeper. This time when he lifted it the buttons on the outside of the cuff of the boy's jacket got caught in the wires. They were sewed on the way back as soon as we saw on buttons, and they held the youngster's weight easily, and when the giraffe lifted the holder, he lifted the boy with it.

"Then there was a scene. We knew the giraffe wouldn't hurt a fly, but it looked to the people as though he had the boy in his teeth and was going to sling him through the other end of the ring. The whole audience was scared, and stood leaning forward, watching and never saying boo, but the giraffe snatched his neck around as gentle and easy as the arm of a cradle and lowered the holder and the boy hanging in it into the arms of the keeper in the ring. The boy hadn't even dropped the buttons.

"Then the people did holler, and the giraffe walked off as stately as you please, the boy climbed back up to his pop, and the show went on. Nobody hurt, but when we ran out of the numbers we had on hand we adopted another style of souvenir." —New York Sun.

Unappreciative.

"Palotto felt disappointed because you didn't attend his exhibition of paintings."

"I was detained."

"But he kept the gallery open late."

"Yes, that's what detained me until a little later." —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Warm Water Bathing.
We would impress upon the clever the necessity of having the water warmed. Bathing, it is true, is seldom or never administered by immersion, but even when infusion is used the heat might injuriously affect one with an already sufficiently low power of resistance.

THE PONY IN FRANZ-JOSEF LAND.

AT AN EARLY STAGE IN OUR JOURNEY OUR DIFFICULTIES BEGAN.

THE PONY BROKE LOOSE THE SECOND NIGHT OUT, AND, UNFORTUNATELY, GORGED HERSELF WITH DRIED VEGETABLES.

THESE, TOGETHER WITH DOG BISCUITS AND A FEW POUNDS OF OATS SAVED FROM THE PREVIOUS SLEDGING, WERE HER USUAL FODDER.

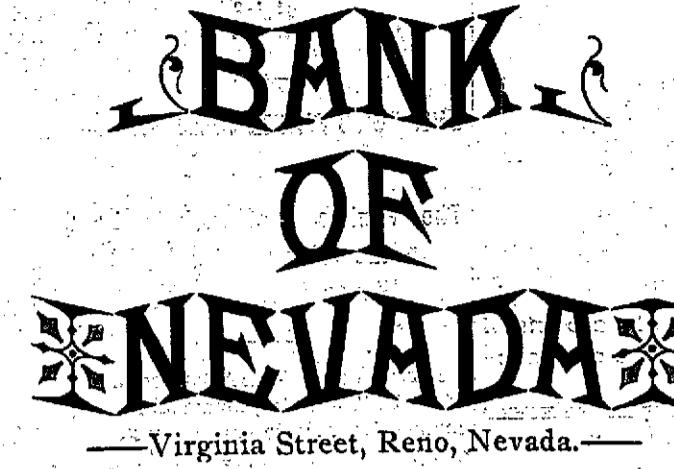

OWING TO THE LACK OF LEGITIMATE HORSE FOOD, WHICH HAD QUITE RUN OUT MORE THAN 12 MONTHS BEFORE.

AS I EXPECTED, THE SURPLUS OF DRIED VEGETABLES BROUGHT ON A SERIOUS ILLNESS, TO REMEDY WHICH ARMITAGE AND I CLUBBED TOGETHER THE SMALL SUPPLY OF PILLS WHICH WE HAD WITH US.

HE PRODUCED, I THINK, TWO VARIETIES OF PILLS, AND I HAD A NUMBER OF PODOPHYLLIN; SO WE MADE UP A DOSE OF 22 IN ALL, WHICH I ADMINISTERED TO OUR INVALID PONY, MIXED UP IN SOME FROZEN FAT FROM OUR FRYING PAN.

THIS, I AM GLAD TO SAY, HAD THE DESIRED EFFECT OF ALL EVENTS NEARLY RESTORING HER TO HEALTH.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The Uniform Rank Volunteers Its Services to Uncle Sam.

Through Brigadier-General Chas. F. McGlashan of Truckee, the California Brigade, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, have offered their services to Governor Budd, when President McKinley calls for volunteers. The Brigade consists of three regiments. At present only 1,000 Knights of Pythias are enrolled in the three regiments, but the full number of 3,000 men can be enlisted on short notice.

Brigadier-General McGlashan had a conference with Governor Budd on Saturday relative to the offer of the Order. General McGlashan said that the Knights of Pythias understood that the first call for volunteers from the State would be supplied from the ranks of the National Guard. If volunteers were demanded the Knights of Pythias would be ready. Governor Budd expressed his gratification at the offer of the Order, and heartily commends its loyal attitude.—Nevada City Herald.

The Mounted Riflemen.

Captain Leonard Wood, of the army who was the first person given authority by the war department to raise one of the regiments at large provided for in the volunteer act, has received his orders, and left Washington Friday for the west, to recruit a regiment of mounted riflemen. The places at which he is to enlist recruits are: Guthrie Okla.; Santa Fe, N. M.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Carson City, Nev.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Cheyenne, Wyo.; and Boise City Idaho. This is the regiment of which Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, now Assistant Secretary of the navy, is to be made Lieutenant Colonel.

It is believed that the men who join this company are surest of all to see plenty of active service which will offer ample opportunity for distinction. The fact that Theodore Roosevelt is to leave the second place in the Navy Department in order to take the Lieutenant Colonelcy of the mounted riflemen who are to play a part in the invasion of Cuba is regarded as sufficient evidence that the cowboy regiment will have its fill of fighting. Col. Wood, who will command the regiment, is a distinguished Indian fighter.

To-night's Entertainment.

Miss Helen Kelleher will deliver a lecture at the Opera House this evening on "California." The lecture will be illustrated by 200 views of scenes in the Golden State and will be highly interesting and entertaining; in fact will be next to a personal visit to the land of "sunshine and flowers." Miss Kelleher comes to Reno highly recommended as an elocutionist and dramatic reader and her auditors this evening may depend on enjoying a rare treat.

An intermission of about twenty minutes will occur, during which the University boys will appear on the stage together with some of the High School boys, who will lead the audience in singing the "Star Spangled Banner," "America" and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Archdeacon Webber will also deliver a short patriotic address.

The entertainment will be given under the auspices of the State University. Seats are now on sale at Claire Dickinson's at 35 and 25 cents.

Flag Presentation at Elko.
Company E, of the N. N. G. of Elko was the recipient of a beautiful flag last Friday evening, presented by the citizens of that place. The Independent describes it as follows:

The flag is of regulation size, 4' x 5'5" feet and is made of the best silk and trimmed with gold fringe and has a heavy gold cord and tassel. On the top of the staff is a gold eagle, that from the expression on his countenance is anxious to get his claws into Spanish hair. At the foot of the staff is a plate of Nevada silver bearing this inscription: "Presented by the citizens of Elko, to Company E, N. N. G., April 11th, 1898." The flag bears on its folds these words: "Company E, 1st Regiment, N. N. G." The flag cost about $90.

The flag is a beautiful emblem and the members of the company are justly proud of it.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who is not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it.

Call on S. J. Hodgkinson Druggist, and get a trial bottle. Regular size 50 cent and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

Enrolling Cavalrymen.

Men for the cavalry company are being enrolled at Carson City. The members of the National Guard are given the preference, and it is not yet ascertained whether enough of them will join to make up the quota. Several who are not members of the Guard, enrolled at Carson yesterday, and signed an agreement to appear for medical examination and muster, when called upon. There seem to be more soldiers than the Government requires.

THE MAN WHO TALKED.

Before the war began he raved and ripped and roared and swore; He wanted vengeance for the Maine and the wrongs the Cubans bore; He fumed because the President endeavored to restore Good order through some other means than shedding human gore. But since call for men was made to set these matters right, This man, so prominent before, is keeping out of sight; He hasn't hurried to the front, as some folks thought he might, And it must be that he thinks himself too big and strong to fight. —Exchange.

Croquettes.

The secret of having croquettes firm, lies in their being mixed for a long time. The meat should be chopped very fine after being freed from all fat and gristle, and about a half pint of milk allowed to each pint of meat. The milk should be put over the fire while a tablespoonful of butter and 2 tablespoonsfuls of flour are rubbed together. The hot milk is then added, and the whole cooked to a thick, smooth paste. Meantime, to a pint of chopped meat is added a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, salt and pepper to taste, the grated rind of a lemon, and a teaspoonful of onion juice, if that is liked, or some cooks simply rub a halved onion over the mixing bowl. The seasoned meat is then stirred into the paste and the whole turned out to cool. The meat should be allowed to stand for at least 2 hours before it is molded into croquettes. Dip first in eggs, then in bread crumbs, and fry in smoking hot fat. Powdered shredded biscuits will be found a pleasant variety to the bread crumbs. It is a caution, by the way, in the use of these biscuits, where bread crumbs are required, that they are very unsuccessful in escalloped tomatoes. They are too starchy, evidently, to be of use there, and they form a gummy mass that is not appetizing.—New York Post.

Simple Ruby Lamp.

Secure an ordinary quart size red Rhine wine bottle and by gently tapping on the bottom thereof break out enough glass to allow the insertion of a candle. A hammar can be used for this purpose, if a little care be taken. Then wrap a piece of ruby paper all around the bottle, securing same by paste or mucilage. The lamp is now ready for use, and by standing the bottle on a triangle of burned matches and lighting the candle, will burn without any trimming of wick and other oil lamp inconveniences. The little white light emanating from the top will do absolutely no harm.—New York Mail and Express.
